

Democratic Ticket.

For President,
WINFIELD S. HANCOCK,
OF PENNSYLVANIA.

For Vice President,
WILLIAM H. ENGLISH,
OF INDIANA.

ELECTORAL TICKET.

FOR THE STATE AT LARGE.
THOS. L. JONES, of Campbell.
A. E. RICHARDS, of Jefferson.

First District—James D. White, of Ballard.
Second District—A. T. Craycroft, of Daviess.
Third District—B. F. Edwards, of Edmonson.
Fourth District—James Montgomery, of Harlan.
Fifth District—E. J. McDermott, of Jefferson.
Sixth District—James W. Bryan, of Knott.
Seventh District—W. C. Owens, of Scott.
Eighth District—M. C. Sandley, of Lincoln.
Ninth District—Joseph Gardner, of Magoffin.
Tenth District—F. L. Cleveland, of Breckenridge.

"The right of trial by jury, the Habeas Corpus, the Liberty of the Press, the Freedom of Speech, the Natural Rights of Persons, and the Rights of Property must be preserved."

For Circuit Judge,
JOHN B. GRACE,
OF TRIGG COUNTY.

For Commonwealth's Attorney,
JAS. B. GARNETT,
OF TRIGG COUNTY.

Miss Ellen Sale, editor of the Dixon Pioneer has been to Madisonville. Did she return your call, Zen?

The Tammany Electoral ticket has been withdrawn in New York and the Democratic goose, suspends altitudinal.

Hon. Jas. A. McKenize has arranged a list of appointments, and will shortly begin a canvass of the district.

Did anybody ever notice that the cradle of the first born is set carefully away when the baby out grows it? It is seldom regarded as dead stock.

It is reported that Conkling will shortly take the stump for the ticket. Wonder if he will take his umbrella with him into the canvass?

Grant has none but a military record, Hayes was nominated, because he had no record and yet the Republicans object to Hancock because he is not a politician.

The Uniontown Local is for Mr. McKenize's re-election. The Democratic opposition will amount to nothing. McKenize will carry the county. Mark that.

A grand ratification meeting was held in New York city, on the 28th ult. at which Mr. Tilden presided as Chairman. Great enthusiasm existed and the union of the factions was complete.

Diefenbach and Rultra has a foreign sound and might catch the votes of the naturalized foreigners better than plain Garfield and Arthur. Try it backwards Republicans, that is the direction your party, is progressing anyhow.

By the way did Grant have any record as a Statesman either before or after he was President? The Republicans are urging that Hancock has no record. He has one and a good one too. No doubt the party wishes Garfield had none.

G. W. Jolly is the Republican elector of this District instead of Hon. A. H. Clark, of this place as we stated some time ago. Mr. Clark was a District delegate, to Chicago, hence our mistake. Judge A. T. Craycroft is the Democratic elector, and both the gentlemen are probably busy reading the South Kentuckian and other standard authorities informing them selves and getting ready for the "clash of arms."

Numbers of prominent Republicans all over the country continue to declare for Hancock. Gen. E. W. Barber, of Michigan. Hon. W. G. Brown, of West Virginia. Col. Henry B. Hayes, of Pennsylvania. Gen. E. G. Marshall of the same State, and Hon. Geo. W. Julian, of Indiana are among the recent converts. Mr. McCormick the president of the Hancock club at Standish, Mich., has voted the Republican ticket for 27 years. The same club has six other members who have been Republicans heretofore but who will vote for Hancock.

We have received a copy of the "Hancock and English Democratic Song-Book, containing a good supply of rousing songs for the campaign. There are also sketches of our standard bearers, and a good portrait of Gen. Hancock. The songs are full of "go," and are set to familiar tunes, such as "Dixie," "Battle Cry of Freedom," "America," "Marching Through Georgia," "Bonnie Blue Flag," and a lot more. Every Democrat should have it and join in the grand chorus. The price is only ten cents. Address the publisher, W. Swan & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Lawyers are all fee-males.

Republicans need back-bone to keep them from being back-bone.

The Democrats and Greenbackers, of Maine have agreed on a fusion ticket.

The Ohio Greenbackers have held a convention and nominated a full State ticket. Like action has been taken in Kansas.

Mr. S. S. Harrison, late of the Henderson News, has obtained a position with the Courier-Journal company.

Dr. Tanner still holds out though he is falling rapidly. His task will be completed Saturday at noon if he can hold out that long.

Side by side with the illustrious records of the Green-Hargis case, and the Kentucky Legislature of 1880, will be handed down to future generations the lengthy fast of Dr. Tanner.

Gen. Weaver has taken the stump in person and is wearing his own web of Greenback nonsense.

"Oh what a tangled web we weave When first we practice to deceive."

A new Republican paper is to be started at Owensboro. It will be called the Investigator. We suggest that it begin by investigating the charges proven against Garfield and Arthur.

The editor of the Cynthia. Democrat has been shown an old German Bible printed in 1545, well printed and bound and in "a splendid state of preservation." But if it had been a thrilling romance, or a bound volume of South Kentuckians, it would have been worn out with reading 300 years ago.

The Trigg county Democrat, of July 22, which came to hand last Wednesday contained the startling intelligence that Sam J. Tilden had written a letter to the New York delegation to the National Convention, declining to be a candidate before that body, for President.

Mr. F. H. Ragon, a prominent business man of Evansville, Ind., long a resident of Cadiz, Ky., died last Friday night of apoplexy. He was stricken Sunday and gradually sank till death ended his sufferings. He was the senior member of the well known wholesale firm of Ragon Bros.

Gen. Hancock's letter is short and appropriate. He fully accords in his views with the Democratic platform, and will faithfully and fairly administer the laws as they stand, regarding as inviolable the recent amendment to the constitution. Mr. English's is more lengthy and fully accords in every respect with the platform and Gen. Hancock's letter.

At Kingston, N. C., Stephen C. Spence, a young farmer, met Mrs. M. E. Waller a beautiful young married lady in the road and half in fun forcibly kissed her. She made complaint to her husband, and Spence was arrested, tried and sentenced to thirty days in jail for kissing another man's wife. So it will be seen that kissing is some times an ex-Spence-ive business.

Charlie Meacham proposes to solve the problem how two lovers can sit up all night with only one chair in the room without one of them sitting on the floor. Charlie is a knowledgeable young man and can give some strange personal experiences, illustrating how the feat is accomplished.—Trigg Democrat.

You see, Judge the male lover could take a seat in the chair, the other party could take a knees-y position close by, and the laps of time would only add to the pleasures of the surroundings.

The two weeks carnival of the Military companies, at Crab Orchard, at the State's expense, was not to the credit of Gov. Blackburn. It cost the State about $20,000 and no good whatever resulted from it. On the contrary, they brought discredit upon themselves by drinking and fighting like negroes at an election. This is a poor way to retrench, but probably enough was saved by cutting down the pay of the meagerly compensated jurymen, to foot the useless bill. The Governor has no moral right to thus expend the people's money.

If any other candidates propose to enter the Congressional race they should do it at once and let the canvass begin. A convention should be called at an early day and let the nominee sit down on Cook. The Greenback bull of the woods is howling throughout the length and breadth of the upper end of the district, and should have some Democrat to twist his tail and quiet him. He is the nominee of his party and the Democratic party should put its nominee in the field to meet him. It would be much better for Mr. Shouse if he would withdraw and let Mr. McKenize have no opposition, and begin at once to canvass the district with Judge Cook. Let the Democratic committee call a convention for some time in this month and make the nomination so Mr. McKenize will have plenty of time to stamp the district from one end to the other.

Mr. Clay Stacker, has become part proprietor of the Clarksville Tobacco Leaf, and the paper will hereafter be published by Ingram & Stacker, Mr. T. M. Riley will continue to edit it.

The Republicans are sending broadcast over the land the following circular appealing to the "truly loyal" for help to keep their old rattle trap of a party aloft on the political sea. The copy of the circular we print below was handed us by a good Democrat in this county, who received it through the mail, evidently being mistaken for a Republican.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE, 1880
1317 F Street, Northwest, Washington, D. C.

Washington, D. C., April 19, 1880.
SIR:—This Committee is organized for the protection of the interests of the Republican party in each of the Congressional Districts of the Union in order that it may prepare, print, and circulate suitable documents illustrating the issues which distinguish the Republican party from every other, and may meet all proper expenses incident to the campaign the Committee feel authorized to apply to all citizens whose interest in the principles are involved in the struggle. Under the circumstances in which the country finds itself placed, the Committee believes that you will esteem it both a privilege and a pleasure to make it fund a contribution, which, it is hoped, may be less than $1.00. The Committee is authorized to state that such voluntary contribution from persons employed in the service of the United States will not be objected to an official quarter.

The labors of this Committee will affect the result of the Presidential as well as the Congressional struggle; and it may therefore reasonably hope to have the sympathy and assistance of all who look, with dread, upon the possibility of the restoration of the Democratic party to the control of the Government.

Please make prompt and favorable response to this letter by bank-check or draft, or postal money order, payable to the order of Geo. F. Dawson, Treasurer, P. O. Lock Box 723, Washington, D. C.

By order of the Committee,
Edw. B. Thompson, Secretary.

Hancock's Letter.

New York, July 30.—The following is General Hancock's letter of acceptance:

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of July 13, 1880, appealing for formally of my nomination to the office of President of the United States by the national Democratic Convention lately assembled in Cincinnati. I accept the nomination with a grateful appreciation of the confidence reposed in me. The principles enunciated by the convention are those I have cherished in the past and shall endeavor to maintain in the future. The Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States, embodying the results of the war, are the basis of the new government. The powers granted by it to the legislative, executive and judicial departments define and limit the authority of the general government. The powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, belong to the States respectively or to the people. The general and State governments, each acting in its own sphere without trenching upon the lawful jurisdiction of the other, constitute the Union. The Union, comprising a general Government with general powers, and State governments with local powers for purposes local to the States, is a polity, the foundations of which were laid in profoundest wisdom. This is the Union our fathers made and which has been so respected abroad and so benefited at home, tried by blood and fire, it stands to-day a model form of free popular government, a political system which, rightly administered, has been and will continue to be the admiration of all peoples. May we not say nearly in the words of Washington: "The unity of government which constitutes us one people is justly dear to us; it is the chief element in the edifice of our real independence, the support of our peace, safety and prosperity, and that liberty we so highly prize and intend at every hazard to preserve. But no form of government however carefully devised, no principles however sound, will protect the rights of the people unless the administration is faithful and efficient. It is a vital principle in our system that no fraud nor force must be allowed to subvert the rights of the people. When fraud, violence or incompetence controls the wisest laws are useless. The bayonet is not a fit instrument for collecting the votes of freemen. It is only by a full vote, free ballot and fair count that people can rule in fact as required by the theory of our government. Take this foundation away and the whole structure falls. A public office is a trust, not a bounty bestowed on the holder. No incompetent or dishonest person should be entrusted with it, or if appointed they should be promptly removed. Our material interests, varied and progressive, demand our constant and united efforts, a scrupulous and scrupulous care of the public credit, together with a wise and economical management of our governmental expenditures, should be maintained in order that labor may be lightly burdened, and that all persons may be protected in their rights to the fruits of their own industry. The time has come to enjoy the substantial benefits of reconciliation. As one people we have common interests. Let us encourage harmony and prosperity by removing our own impediments, which will revive our languishing merchant marine, extend our commerce with foreign nations, assist our merchants, manufacturers and producers to develop our vast natural resources, and increase the prosperity and happiness of our people. If elected I shall, with divine favor, labor with what ability I possess to discharge my duties with fidelity according to my convictions, and shall take care to protect and defend the Union, and to see the laws faithfully executed in all parts of the country alike. I will assume the responsibility, fully sensible of the fact that to administer rightly the functions of the government is to discharge the most sacred duty that can devolve upon an American citizen.

I am very respectfully yours,
W. S. HANCOCK.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY
NEW YORK CITY
JULY 29, 1880.

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of July 13, 1880, appealing for formally of my nomination to the office of President of the United States by the national Democratic Convention lately assembled in Cincinnati. I accept the nomination with a grateful appreciation of the confidence reposed in me. The principles enunciated by the convention are those I have cherished in the past and shall endeavor to maintain in the future. The Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States, embodying the results of the war, are the basis of the new government. The powers granted by it to the legislative, executive and judicial departments define and limit the authority of the general government. The powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, belong to the States respectively or to the people. The general and State governments, each acting in its own sphere without trenching upon the lawful jurisdiction of the other, constitute the Union. The Union, comprising a general Government with general powers, and State governments with local powers for purposes local to the States, is a polity, the foundations of which were laid in profoundest wisdom. This is the Union our fathers made and which has been so respected abroad and so benefited at home, tried by blood and fire, it stands to-day a model form of free popular government, a political system which, rightly administered, has been and will continue to be the admiration of all peoples. May we not say nearly in the words of Washington: "The unity of government which constitutes us one people is justly dear to us; it is the chief element in the edifice of our real independence, the support of our peace, safety and prosperity, and that liberty we so highly prize and intend at every hazard to preserve. But no form of government however carefully devised, no principles however sound, will protect the rights of the people unless the administration is faithful and efficient. It is a vital principle in our system that no fraud nor force must be allowed to subvert the rights of the people. When fraud, violence or incompetence controls the wisest laws are useless. The bayonet is not a fit instrument for collecting the votes of freemen. It is only by a full vote, free ballot and fair count that people can rule in fact as required by the theory of our government. Take this foundation away and the whole structure falls. A public office is a trust, not a bounty bestowed on the holder. No incompetent or dishonest person should be entrusted with it, or if appointed they should be promptly removed. Our material interests, varied and progressive, demand our constant and united efforts, a scrupulous and scrupulous care of the public credit, together with a wise and economical management of our governmental expenditures, should be maintained in order that labor may be lightly burdened, and that all persons may be protected in their rights to the fruits of their own industry. The time has come to enjoy the substantial benefits of reconciliation. As one people we have common interests. Let us encourage harmony and prosperity by removing our own impediments, which will revive our languishing merchant marine, extend our commerce with foreign nations, assist our merchants, manufacturers and producers to develop our vast natural resources, and increase the prosperity and happiness of our people. If elected I shall, with divine favor, labor with what ability I possess to discharge my duties with fidelity according to my convictions, and shall take care to protect and defend the Union, and to see the laws faithfully executed in all parts of the country alike. I will assume the responsibility, fully sensible of the fact that to administer rightly the functions of the government is to discharge the most sacred duty that can devolve upon an American citizen.

I am very respectfully yours,
W. S. HANCOCK.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY
NEW YORK CITY
JULY 29, 1880.

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of July 13, 1880, appealing for formally of my nomination to the office of President of the United States by the national Democratic Convention lately assembled in Cincinnati. I accept the nomination with a grateful appreciation of the confidence reposed in me. The principles enunciated by the convention are those I have cherished in the past and shall endeavor to maintain in the future. The Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States, embodying the results of the war, are the basis of the new government. The powers granted by it to the legislative, executive and judicial departments define and limit the authority of the general government. The powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, belong to the States respectively or to the people. The general and State governments, each acting in its own sphere without trenching upon the lawful jurisdiction of the other, constitute the Union. The Union, comprising a general Government with general powers, and State governments with local powers for purposes local to the States, is a polity, the foundations of which were laid in profoundest wisdom. This is the Union our fathers made and which has been so respected abroad and so benefited at home, tried by blood and fire, it stands to-day a model form of free popular government, a political system which, rightly administered, has been and will continue to be the admiration of all peoples. May we not say nearly in the words of Washington: "The unity of government which constitutes us one people is justly dear to us; it is the chief element in the edifice of our real independence, the support of our peace, safety and prosperity, and that liberty we so highly prize and intend at every hazard to preserve. But no form of government however carefully devised, no principles however sound, will protect the rights of the people unless the administration is faithful and efficient. It is a vital principle in our system that no fraud nor force must be allowed to subvert the rights of the people. When fraud, violence or incompetence controls the wisest laws are useless. The bayonet is not a fit instrument for collecting the votes of freemen. It is only by a full vote, free ballot and fair count that people can rule in fact as required by the theory of our government. Take this foundation away and the whole structure falls. A public office is a trust, not a bounty bestowed on the holder. No incompetent or dishonest person should be entrusted with it, or if appointed they should be promptly removed. Our material interests, varied and progressive, demand our constant and united efforts, a scrupulous and scrupulous care of the public credit, together with a wise and economical management of our governmental expenditures, should be maintained in order that labor may be lightly burdened, and that all persons may be protected in their rights to the fruits of their own industry. The time has come to enjoy the substantial benefits of reconciliation. As one people we have common interests. Let us encourage harmony and prosperity by removing our own impediments, which will revive our languishing merchant marine, extend our commerce with foreign nations, assist our merchants, manufacturers and producers to develop our vast natural resources, and increase the prosperity and happiness of our people. If elected I shall, with divine favor, labor with what ability I possess to discharge my duties with fidelity according to my convictions, and shall take care to protect and defend the Union, and to see the laws faithfully executed in all parts of the country alike. I will assume the responsibility, fully sensible of the fact that to administer rightly the functions of the government is to discharge the most sacred duty that can devolve upon an American citizen.

I am very respectfully yours,
W. S. HANCOCK.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY
NEW YORK CITY
JULY 29, 1880.

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of July 13, 1880, appealing for formally of my nomination to the office of President of the United States by the national Democratic Convention lately assembled in Cincinnati. I accept the nomination with a grateful appreciation of the confidence reposed in me. The principles enunciated by the convention are those I have cherished in the past and shall endeavor to maintain in the future. The Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States, embodying the results of the war, are the basis of the new government. The powers granted by it to the legislative, executive and judicial departments define and limit the authority of the general government. The powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, belong to the States respectively or to the people. The general and State governments, each acting in its own sphere without trenching upon the lawful jurisdiction of the other, constitute the Union. The Union, comprising a general Government with general powers, and State governments with local powers for purposes local to the States, is a polity, the foundations of which were laid in profoundest wisdom. This is the Union our fathers made and which has been so respected abroad and so benefited at home, tried by blood and fire, it stands to-day a model form of free popular government, a political system which, rightly administered, has been and will continue to be the admiration of all peoples. May we not say nearly in the words of Washington: "The unity of government which constitutes us one people is justly dear to us; it is the chief element in the edifice of our real independence, the support of our peace, safety and prosperity, and that liberty we so highly prize and intend at every hazard to preserve. But no form of government however carefully devised, no principles however sound, will protect the rights of the people unless the administration is faithful and efficient. It is a vital principle in our system that no fraud nor force must be allowed to subvert the rights of the people. When fraud, violence or incompetence controls the wisest laws are useless. The bayonet is not a fit instrument for collecting the votes of freemen. It is only by a full vote, free ballot and fair count that people can rule in fact as required by the theory of our government. Take this foundation away and the whole structure falls. A public office is a trust, not a bounty bestowed on the holder. No incompetent or dishonest person should be entrusted with it, or if appointed they should be promptly removed. Our material interests, varied and progressive, demand our constant and united efforts, a scrupulous and scrupulous care of the public credit, together with a wise and economical management of our governmental expenditures, should be maintained in order that labor may be lightly burdened, and that all persons may be protected in their rights to the fruits of their own industry. The time has come to enjoy the substantial benefits of reconciliation. As one people we have common interests. Let us encourage harmony and prosperity by removing our own impediments, which will revive our languishing merchant marine, extend our commerce with foreign nations, assist our merchants, manufacturers and producers to develop our vast natural resources, and increase the prosperity and happiness of our people. If elected I shall, with divine favor, labor with what ability I possess to discharge my duties with fidelity according to my convictions, and shall take care to protect and defend the Union, and to see the laws faithfully executed in all parts of the country alike. I will assume the responsibility, fully sensible of the fact that to administer rightly the functions of the government is to discharge the most sacred duty that can devolve upon an American citizen.

I am very respectfully yours,
W. S. HANCOCK.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY
NEW YORK CITY
JULY 29, 1880.

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of July 13, 1880, appealing for formally of my nomination to the office of President of the United States by the national Democratic Convention lately assembled in Cincinnati. I accept the nomination with a grateful appreciation of the confidence reposed in me. The principles enunciated by the convention are those I have cherished in the past and shall endeavor to maintain in the future. The Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States, embodying the results of the war, are the basis of the new government. The powers granted by it to the legislative, executive and judicial departments define and limit the authority of the general government. The powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, belong to the States respectively or to the people. The general and State governments, each acting in its own sphere without trenching upon the lawful jurisdiction of the other, constitute the Union. The Union, comprising a general Government with general powers, and State governments with local powers for purposes local to the States, is a polity, the foundations of which were laid in profoundest wisdom. This is the Union our fathers made and which has been so respected abroad and so benefited at home, tried by blood and fire, it stands to-day a model form of free popular government, a political system which, rightly administered, has been and will continue to be the admiration of all peoples. May we not say nearly in the words of Washington: "The unity of government which constitutes us one people is justly dear to us; it is the chief element in the edifice of our real independence, the support of our peace, safety and prosperity, and that liberty we so highly prize and intend at every hazard to preserve. But no form of government however carefully devised, no principles however sound, will protect the rights of the people unless the administration is faithful and efficient. It is a vital principle in our system that no fraud nor force must be allowed to subvert the rights of the people. When fraud, violence or incompetence controls the wisest laws are useless. The bayonet is not a fit instrument for collecting the votes of freemen. It is only by a full vote, free ballot and fair count that people can rule in fact as required by the theory of our government. Take this foundation away and the whole structure falls. A public office is a trust, not a bounty bestowed on the holder. No incompetent or dishonest person should be entrusted with it, or if appointed they should be promptly removed. Our material interests, varied and progressive, demand our constant and united efforts, a scrupulous and scrupulous care of the public credit, together with a wise and economical management of our governmental expenditures, should be maintained in order that labor may be lightly burdened, and that all persons may be protected in their rights to the fruits of their own industry. The time has come to enjoy the substantial benefits of reconciliation. As one people we have common interests. Let us encourage harmony and prosperity by removing our own impediments, which will revive our languishing merchant marine, extend our commerce with foreign nations, assist our merchants, manufacturers and producers to develop our vast natural resources, and increase the prosperity and happiness of our people. If elected I shall, with divine favor, labor with what ability I possess to discharge my duties with fidelity according to my convictions, and shall take care to protect and defend the Union, and to see the laws faithfully executed in all parts of the country alike. I will assume the responsibility, fully sensible of the fact that to administer rightly the functions of the government is to discharge the most sacred duty that can devolve upon an American citizen.

I am very respectfully yours,
W. S. HANCOCK.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY
NEW YORK CITY
JULY 29, 1880.

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of July 13, 1880, appealing for formally of my nomination to the office of President of the United States by the national Democratic Convention lately assembled in Cincinnati. I accept the nomination with a grateful appreciation of the confidence reposed in me. The principles enunciated by the convention are those I have cherished in the past and shall endeavor to maintain in the future. The Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States, embodying the results of the war, are the basis of the new government. The powers granted by it to the legislative, executive and judicial departments define and limit the authority of the general government. The powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, belong to the States respectively or to the people. The general and State governments, each acting in its own sphere without trenching upon the lawful jurisdiction of the other, constitute the Union. The Union, comprising a general Government with general powers, and State governments with local powers for purposes local to the States, is a polity, the foundations of which were laid in profoundest wisdom. This is the Union our fathers made and which has been so respected abroad and so benefited at home, tried by blood and fire, it stands to-day a model form of free popular government, a political system which, rightly administered, has been and will continue to be the admiration of all peoples. May we not say nearly in the words of Washington: "The unity of government which constitutes us one people is justly dear to us; it is the chief element in the edifice of our real independence, the support of our peace, safety and prosperity, and that liberty we so highly prize and intend at every hazard to preserve. But no form of government however carefully devised, no principles however sound, will protect the rights of the people unless the administration is faithful and efficient. It is a vital principle in our system that no fraud nor force must be allowed to subvert the rights of the people. When fraud, violence or incompetence controls the wisest laws are useless. The bayonet is not a fit instrument for collecting the votes of freemen. It is only by a full vote, free ballot and fair count that people can rule in fact as required by the theory of our government. Take this foundation away and the whole structure falls. A public office is a trust, not a bounty bestowed on the holder. No incompetent or dishonest person should be entrusted with it, or if appointed they should be promptly removed. Our material interests, varied and progressive, demand our constant and united efforts, a scrupulous and scrupulous care of the public credit, together with a wise and economical management of our governmental expenditures, should be maintained in order that labor may be lightly burdened, and that all persons may be protected in their rights to the fruits of their own industry. The time has come to enjoy the substantial benefits of reconciliation. As one people we have common interests. Let us encourage harmony and prosperity by removing our own impediments, which will revive our languishing merchant marine, extend our commerce with foreign nations, assist our merchants, manufacturers and producers to develop our vast natural resources, and increase the prosperity and happiness of our people. If elected I shall, with divine favor, labor with what ability I possess to discharge my duties with fidelity according to my convictions, and shall take care to protect and defend the Union, and to see the laws faithfully executed in all parts of the country alike. I will assume the responsibility, fully sensible of the fact that to administer rightly the functions of the government is to discharge the most sacred duty that can devolve upon an American citizen.

I'M CROWN FOR THE CITY.

The Colored Troops Fought Nobly
Owen's Majority 29.

The vote of the city yesterday for Marshall was as follows:
P. M. Owen, Democrat, 447
T. P. Ennis, Republican, 419
Owens Majority, 28
Great excitement prevailed. Large numbers of colored men voted for Owen. Underwood and Brown, Republicans, have carried the county beyond a doubt. The official vote will be given next week.

CHURCH HILL.

Watermelons are a failure in this section. Following has fairly commenced. Dust is eight inches from tip to tip.

Candidates for Constable are attracting much attention and creating a lively interest. Prof. Hook, who spent a portion of his vacation in Missouri has returned and will resume his school in a few weeks.

By some means, four families who reside in a neighborhood, were overlooked by the Census enumerator.

Game chickens are worth fifty cents each—a good price for small fowls.

Mr. Arthur M. Henry has threshed about 18,000 bushels of wheat this season and is still pushing the business forward.

The congregation that assembled at Hebron last Sunday morning the 25th were very much disappointed to find no preacher to entertain them. They expected some extra firing on the occasion.

Died—Mr. J. E. Taylor died on the 29th of spinal affection, after a long illness. SHORTFELLOW.

RICKETTSVILLE.

After a silence of several weeks we again attempt to chronicle the news from this point.

The tobacco crop does not look very promising at present.

Mrs. Mary Owen has been very sick with the fever for the past week, but is some better at present.

Mr. George G. Hopkinsville, who has been visiting relatives in this neighborhood returned home on last Monday, and the consequence is several Charles feel quite lonely.

We have been accused of changing our name to Rosa Lee. We deny the charge, and demand the proof of the accuser, yet we are not sure we can be, for the very fact that "Omnia vincit amor," and we do know we love her—the accuser.

The Rev. Jno. Spurlin, of Trigg county, preached at Pishan on last Monday night, also at the Brick on Tuesday night.

Rickettsville is booming with target guns, horse-shoes and red liquor.

Miss Mary Wood, of the Bellevue neighborhood, is visiting the family of Mr. G. R. Quisenberry.

Gratitude is that her gratitude is unbounded to certain people for the interest they take in her welfare and enjoyment, and hopes they will be content with this acknowledgment of their kindness to her.

The title of superior distinction is rightly at about eighty degrees per week in some localities. We hope we are included in the tide.

Bob Broady, colored, while plowing some ten days ago, had a very severe stroke, from the effects of which he died on last Tuesday night.

There will be a called meeting at the Brick Church on next Saturday evening for the purpose of attending to church business, also preaching on Sunday following.

Misses Helen Boyd and Lucy Everett returned home last Sunday from the Mt. Zion neighborhood, where they had been spending several days with their friends and relatives.

It is amusing to think what a dangerous position we are in. We dare not pass through our own town without running the risk of some one knocking us off our horse with a pointed stick.

Padueah had her first negro jury last week. A negro was tried for stealing a watch worth $125 and got 18 months imprisonment.

Rev. Wright Merriek of Lexington is the oldest living graduate of West Point. He was one of the class of 1823 and is 83 years old.

A young man named James Whitfield was found dead in the road in Hopkinsville, with his pockets turned and a pistol lying by him.

The State teachers Association will meet in Lexington, August 10th. Arrangements have been made with railroads and hotels for reduced rates. A large attendance is desired.

FOR FIFTY CENTS.
—THE—
LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL.

[Hon. HENRY WATSON, Editor.]
Will be found, as usual, at the front in the President's Carriage.

As the Representative Southern Paper and a leading organ of the Democratic Party in the United States, it will be a guide to Democrats throughout the land, valuable to the fair-minded everywhere and full of interest to Republicans.

AS A FAMILY NEWSPAPER
It will continue, as usual, to be filled with actual news of the home and family circle. Fifty cents will secure the Weekly Courier-Journal and January 1st, 1881, from subscription it received, or eleven copies for five Dollars.

The regular yearly subscription price of Weekly Courier-Journal will remain the same as usual, with a premium, to be selected by subscriber from our premium list, of $1.00 a year without premium. For clubs of five and over $4.00 a year.

W. N. HADLEMAN,
President Courier-Journal Co., Louisville, Ky.

CELEBRATED FEMALE COLLEGE.

A SELECT SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES.
WOODBURN, WARREN COUNTY, KENTUCKY.

Terms for Session of Twenty Weeks.
Board, Washing, Fuel, Lights, Furnished Rooms and attendance on Rooms $20.00
Tuition, throughout the specified course of study, including the ancient languages $20.00
French and German, each $5.00
Conveyance of Pupil and baggage

THE SOUTH KENTUCKIAN.

CHARLES M. MEACHAM, EDITOR.

HOPKINSVILLE, AUG. 3, 1880.

Democratic Ticket.

For President,
WINFIELD S. HANCOCK,
OF PENNSYLVANIA.

For Vice President,
WILLIAM H. ENGLISH,
OF INDIANA.

ELECTORAL TICKET.

FOR THE STATE AT LARGE.
THOS. L. JONES, of Campbell.
A. E. RICHARDS, of Jefferson.

First District—James D. White of Ballard.
Second District—A. T. Craycroft, of Davies.
Third District—B. F. Edwards, of Edmonson.
Fourth District—James Montgomery, of Harlan.
Fifth District—E. J. McDermott, of Jefferson.
Sixth District—James W. Bryan, of Keston.
Seventh District—W. C. Owens, of Scott.
Eighth District—M. C. Sander, of Lincoln.
Ninth District—Joseph Gardner, of Magoffin.
Tenth District—F. L. Cleveland, of Breckenridge.

"The right of trial by jury, the Habeas Corpus, the Liberty of the Press, the Freedom of Speech, the Natural Rights of Persons, and the Rights of Property, must be preserved."
Extract from the order of General Hancock, of November 29, 1867.

For Circuit Judge,
JOHN B. GRACE,
OF TRIGG COUNTY.

For Commonwealth's Attorney,
JAS. B. GARNETT,
OF TRIGG COUNTY.

Miss Ellen Sale, editor of the Dixon Pioneer has been to Madisonville. Did she return your call, Zeno?

The Tammany Electoral ticket has been withdrawn in New York and the Democratic goose, suspends altitudinous.

Hon. Jas. A. McKenize has arranged a list of appointments, and will shortly begin a canvass of the district.

Did anybody ever notice that the cradle of the first born is set carefully away when the baby out grows it? It is seldom regarded as dead stock.

It is reported that Conkling will shortly take the stump for the ticket. Wonder if he will take his umbrella with him into the canvass?

Grant has none but a military record. Hayes was nominated, because he had no record and yet the Republicans object to Hancock because he has not a politician.

The Uniontown Local is for Mr. McKenize's re-election. The Democratic opposition will amount to nothing. McKenize will carry the county. Mark that.

A grand ratification meeting was held in New York city, on the 28th ult. at which Mr. Tilden presided as Chairman. Great enthusiasm existed and the union of the factions was complete.

Dieftrag and Rultra has a foreign sound and might catch the votes of the naturalized foreigners better than plain Garfield and Arthur. Try it backwards Republicans, that is the direction your party, is progressing anyhow.

By the way did Grant have any record as a Statesman either before or after he was President? The Republicans are urging that Hancock has no record. He has one and a good one too. No doubt the party wishes Garfield had none.

G. W. Jolly is the Republican elector of this District instead of Hon. A. H. Clark, of this place as we stated some time ago. Mr. Clark was a District delegate to Chicago, hence our mistake. Judge A. T. Craycroft is the Democratic elector, and both the gentlemen are probably busy reading the SOUTH KENTUCKIAN and other standard authorities informing them selves and getting ready for the "clash of arms."

Numbers of prominent Republicans all over the country continue to declare for Hancock. Gen. E. W. Barber, of Michigan. Hon. W. B. Brown, of West Virginia. Col. Henry B. Hayes, of Pennsylvania. Gen. E. G. Marshall of the same State, and Hon. Geo. W. Julian, of Indiana are among the recent converts. Mr. McCormick the president of the Hancock club at Standish, Mich., has voted the Republican ticket for 27 years. The same club has six other members who have been Republicans heretofore but who will vote for Hancock.

We have received a copy of the "Hancock and English Democratic Song-Book," containing a good supply of rousing songs for the campaign. There are also sketches of our standard bearers, and a good portrait of Gen. Hancock. The songs are full of "go" and are set to familiar tunes, such as "Dixie," "Battle Cry of Freedom," "America," "Marching Through Georgia," "Bonnie Blue Flag," and a lot more. Every Democrat should have it and join in the grand chorus. The price is only ten cents. Address the publisher, W. Swan & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

LAWYERS are all fee-males.

Republicans need back-bone to keep them from being back-bone.

The Democrats and Greenbackers of Maine have agreed on a fusion ticket.

The Ohio Greenbackers have held a convention and nominated a full State ticket. Like action has been taken in Kansas.

Mr. S. S. Harrison, late of the Henderson News, has obtained a position with the Courier-Journal company.

Dr. Tanner still holds out though he is failing rapidly. His task will be completed Saturday at noon if he can hold out that long.

Side by side with the illustrations records of the Green-Harris' case, and the Kentucky Legislature of 1880, will be handed down to future generations the lengthy fast of Dr. Tanner.

Gen. Weaver has taken the stump in person and is wearing his own web of Greenback nonsense.

"Oh what a tangled web we weave When first we practice to deceive."

A new Republican paper is to be started at Owensboro. It will be called the Investigator. We suggest that it begin by investigating the charges proven against Garfield and Arthur.

The editor of the Cynthiaiana Democrat has been shown an old German Bible printed in 1545, well printed and bound and in a splendid state of preservation. But if it had been a thrilling romance, or a bound volume of South Kentuckians, it would have been worn out with reading 300 years ago.

The Trigg county Democrat of July 23, which came to hand last Wednesday contained the startling intelligence that Saml J. Tilden had written a letter to the New York delegation to the National Convention, declining to be a candidate before that body, for President.

Mr. F. H. Ragon, a prominent business man of Evansville, Ind., long a resident of Cadiz, Ky. died last Friday night of apoplexy. He was stricken Sunday and gradually sank till death ended his sufferings. He was the senior member of the well known wholesale firm of Ragon Bros.

Gen. Hancock's letter is short and appropriate. He fully accords in his views with the Democratic platform, and will faithfully and fairly administer the laws as they stand, regarding as inviolable the recent amendment to the constitution. Mr. English's is more lengthy and fully accords in every respect with the platform and Gen. Hancock's letter.

At Kingston, N. C., Stephen C. Spence, a young farmer, met a Mrs. M. E. Waller a beautiful young married lady in the road and half in fun forcedly kissed her. She made complaint to her husband, and Spence was arrested, tried and sentenced to thirty days in jail for kissing another man's wife. So it will be seen that kissing is some times an ex-Spence-ive business.

Charlie Meacham proposes to solve the problem how two lovers can sit up all night with only one chair in the room without one of them sitting on the floor. Charlie is a knowledgeable young man and can give creditable answers to the question. Illustrating how the feat is accomplished—Trigg Democrat.

You see, Judge the male lover could take a seat in the chair, the other party could take a knees-y position close by, and the laps of time would only add to the pleasures of the surroundings.

The two weeks carousal of the Military companies, at Crab Orchard, at the State's expense, was not to the credit of Gov. Blackburn. It cost the State about $20,000 and no good whatever resulted from it. On the contrary, they brought discredit upon themselves by drinking and fighting like negroes at an election. This is a poor way to retrench, but probably enough was saved by cutting down the pay of the meagerly compensated jurymen, to foot the useless bill. The Governor has no moral right to thus expend the people's money.

If any other candidates propose to enter the Congressional race they should do it at once and let the canvass begin. A convention should be called at an early day and let the nominee sit down on Cook. The Greenback bull of the woods is howling and pawing the earth and bellowing throughout the length and breadth of the upper end of the district, and should have some Democrat to twist his tail and quiet him. He is the nominee of his party and the Democratic party should put its nominee in the field to meet him. It would be much better for Mr. Shouse if he would withdraw and let Mr. McKenize have no opposition, and begin at once to canvass the district with Judge Cook. Let the Democratic committee call a convention for some time in this month and make the nomination so Mr. McKenize will have plenty of time to stomp the district from one end to the other.

Mr. Clay Stacker, has become part proprietor of the Clarksville Tobacco Leaf, and the paper will hereafter be published by Ingram & Stacker, Mr. T. M. Riley will continue to edit it.

The Republicans are sending broadcast over the land the following circular appealing to the "truly loyal" for help to keep their old rattle trap of a party out of the political sea.

The copy of the circular we print below was handed us by a good Democrat in this county, who received it through the mail, evidently being mistaken for a Republican.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE, 1880
1317 F. Street, Northwest, Washington, D. C.

Washington, D. C., April 19, 1880.
Sirs:—This Committee is organized for the protection of the interests of the Republican party in each of the Congressional Districts of the Union in order that it may prepare, print, and circulate suitable documents illustrating the issues which distinguish the Republican party from every other, and may meet all proper expenses incident to the campaign the Committee feel authorized to apply to all citizens whose interests or principles are involved in the struggle. Under the circumstances in which the country finds itself placed, the Committee believe that it is essential to both a privilege and a pleasure to make its fund a contribution, which it is hoped, may not be less than $5. The Committee is authorized to accept of such voluntary contributions of persons employed in the service of the United States, who will not be objected to an official quarter.

The labors of this Committee will affect the result of the Presidential as well as the Congressional struggle; and it may therefore reasonably hope to have the sympathy and assistance of all who look with dread upon the possibility of the restoration of the Democratic party to the control of the Government. Please make prompt and favorable response to this letter by bank-check or draft, or postal money order, payable to the order of Gen. F. S. Dawson, Treasurer, P. O. Lock Box 723, Washington, D. C. By order of the Committee,
EDW. MCPHERSON, Secretary.

Hancock's Letter.

New York, July 30.—The following is General Hancock's letter of acceptance:

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of July 13, 1880, apprising me formally of my nomination to the office of President of the United States by the national Democratic Convention lately assembled in Cincinnati. I accept the nomination with a grateful appreciation of the confidence reposed in me. The principles enunciated by the convention are those I have cherished in the past and shall endeavor to maintain in the future. The thirteen, Fourteenth and fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States, embodying the results of the war for the Union are inviolable. If called to the presidency I should deem it my duty to resist with all my power any attempt to impair the full force and effect of the constitution which in every article, section and amendment is the law of the land. The constitution forms the basis of government of the United States. The powers granted by it to the legislative, executive and judicial departments define and limit the authority of the general government. The powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, belong to the States respectively or to the people. This general and State government, each acting in its own sphere without trenching upon the lawful jurisdiction of the other, constitute the Union. The Union, comprising a general Government with general powers, and State governments with State powers for purposes local to the States, is a policy, the foundations of which were laid in profoundest wisdom. This is the Union our fathers made and which has been so respected abroad and so beneficent at home, tried by blood and fire, it stands today a model of a political system which, administered, has been and will continue to be the admiration of the world. May we not say nearly in the words of Washington: "The unity of government which constitutes us one people is justly dear to us; it is the main pillar in the edifice that supports the independence, the support of peace, safety and prosperity, and of that liberty we so highly prize and intend at every hazard to preserve. But no form of government however carefully devised, no principles however sound, will protect the rights of the people unless the administration is faithful and efficient. It is a vital principle in our system that neither fraud nor force must be allowed to subvert the rights of the people. When fraud, violence or incompetence controls the administration, the wisdom laws are useless. The bayonet is not a fit instrument for collecting the votes of freemen. It is only by a full vote, free ballot and fair count that people can rule in fact as required by the theory of our government. Take this foundation away and the whole structure falls. A public office is a trust, not a bounty bestowed on the holder. No incompetent or dishonest persons should be entrusted with it, or if appointed they should be promptly removed. Our material interests, varied and progressive, demand our constant and united efforts, a sedulous and scrupulous care of the public credit, together with a wise and economical management of our governmental expenditures, should be maintained in order that the people may be lightly burdened, and that all persons may be protected in their rights to the fruits of their own industry. The time has come to enjoy the substantial benefits of reconciliation. As one people we have common interests, and the Union, to see the laws faithfully executed in all parts of the country alike. I will assume the responsibility, fully sensible of the fact that to administer rightly the functions of the government is to discharge the most sacred duty that can devolve upon an American citizen. I am very respectfully,
W. S. HANCOCK.

VICTORY!!

I AM GROWN FOR THE CITY

The Colored Troops Fought Nobly
Owen's Majority 28.

The vote of the city yesterday for Marshal was as follows:
P. M. Owen, Democrat, 447
T. P. Ennis, Republican, 419
Owen's Majority, 28
Great excitement prevailed. Large numbers of colored men voted for Owen. Underwood and Brown, Republicans, have carried the county beyond a doubt. The official vote will be given next week.

CHURCH HILL.

Watermelons are a failure in this section.

Fallowing has fairly commenced. Dust is eight inches from tip to tip.

Candidates for Constable are attracting much attention and creating a lively interest.

Prof. Hook, who spent a portion of his vacation in Missouri has returned and will resume his school in a few weeks.

By some means, four families who reside in this neighborhood, were overlooked by the Census enumerator.

Game chickens are worth fifty cents each—a good price for small fighters.

Mr. Arthur M. Henry has threshed about 13,000 bushels of wheat this season and is still pushing the business forward.

The congregation that assembled at Hebron last Sunday morning the 25th were very much disappointed to find no preacher to entertain them. They expected some extra firing on the occasion.

Died—Mr. J. E. Taylor died on the 23rd of spinal affection, after a long illness.
SHORTFELLOW.

RICKETTSVILLE.

After a silence of several weeks we again attempt to chronicle the news from this point.

The tobacco crop does not look very promising at present.

Miss Mary Coward has been very sick with fever for the past week, but is now better at present.

Miss Ida Cooper, of Hopkinsville, who has been visiting relatives in this neighborhood returned home on last Monday, and the consequence is several Charleses feel quite lonely.

We have been accused of slandering our name to Rosa Lee. We deny the charge, and demand the proof of the accuser, yet we are not mad, nor can we be, from the very fact that "Omnia vincit amor," and we do know we love her—the accuser.

The Rev. Jno. Spurlin, of Trigg county, preached at Pigeon on last Monday night, also at the Brick on Tuesday night.

Rickettsville is booming with target guns, horse-shoes and red liquor.

Miss Mary Wood, of the Bellevue neighborhood, is visiting the family of Mr. G. R. Quisenberry.

Greene says that her gratitude is unbounded to certain people for the interest they take in her welfare and enjoyment, and hopes they will be content with this acknowledgment of their kindness to her.

The title of superior distinction is rising about eighty degrees per week in some localities. We hope we are included in the tide.

Bob Broady, colored, while plowing some ten days ago, had a very severe stroke, from the effects of which he died last Tuesday night.

There will be a called meeting at the Brick Church on next Saturday evening for the purpose of attending to church business, also preaching on Sunday following.

Misses Helen Boyd and Lucy Everett returned home last Sunday from the Mt. Zion neighborhood, where they had been spending several days with their friends and relatives.

It is amusing to think what a dangerous position we are in. We dare not pass through our own town without running the risk of some one knocking us off our horse with a rock. We must have a police force appointed to see to this. Send us Pete Owen if he gets beat.

DAVE CROCKETT.

SELECT SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES.

WOODBURN, WARREN COUNTY, KENTUCKY.

Terms per Session of Twenty Weeks.
Board, Washing, Fuel, Lights, Furnished Rooms and attendance on Rooms $50.00
Tuition, throughout the specified course of study, including the ancient languages 20.00
Textual Fee 5.00
Incidental Fee 5.00
French and German, each 5.00
Conveyance of Pupil and baggage to and from depot 2.00

EXTRAS.
Tuition in Music, on Piano or Guitar, with use of Instrument 10.00
Vocational 15.00
Class standing per term 5.00
French and German, each 5.00
The Fall Term Begins Monday, August 31st, 1880; Spring Term Begins Monday, January 14th, 1881.

THE FACULTY AND OFFICERS.

B. F. CABELL, PRESIDENT.
Prof. Latin, Moral and Mental Philosophy.
MISS LOU M. ARNOLD, Teacher of Mathematics.
MISS MAGGIE WHITE, Asst. Literary Teacher.
MRS. B. F. CABELL, Governess.
W. F. WHITESIDES, Treas. and Supt. of Home Department.
MISS JEANIE BLACKBURN, Teacher of Instrumental and Vocal Music.
MISS ROSA SLAYDEN, Teacher of Painting, Drawing, Sketching, &c.

MISS ROSA SLAYDEN, Teacher of Painting, Drawing, Sketching, &c.
MISS C. K. MOORING, (Conservatory of Music), Assistant Teacher of Music.

MISS ROSA SLAYDEN, Teacher of Painting, Drawing, Sketching, &c.
MISS C. K. MOORING, (Conservatory of Music), Assistant Teacher of Music.

MISS ROSA SLAYDEN, Teacher of Painting, Drawing, Sketching, &c.
MISS C. K. MOORING, (Conservatory of Music), Assistant Teacher of Music.

MISS ROSA SLAYDEN, Teacher of Painting, Drawing, Sketching, &c.
MISS C. K. MOORING, (Conservatory of Music), Assistant Teacher of Music.

Statement of the BANK OF HOPKINSVILLE, On the first day of July, 1880.

RESOURCES:
Notes and Bills Discounted, $298,237.57
Suspended debt, in suit, 4,415.75, $302,653.32

REAL ESTATE:
Land and City Property, for debt, $5,137.12
Banking Houses, 13,500.00
Repairs on Banking House, 2,802.27, $31,439.39

CASH:
Exchange due from Banks and Bankers, $7,754.23
Cash in Vault, 60,782.01
Money in transit from U. S. Mint, 100.00, $75,636.24

Revenue Stamp Account, 221.00
Total, $172,885.95

LIABILITIES:
Capital Stock paid in, $250,000.00
Contingent Fund, 52,943.49
Due Individual Depositors, 162,442.86
Dividend, No. 29, unpaid, 100.00
Dividend, No. 30, this day, 7,500.00
Total, $472,986.35

No unclaimed deposits standing over five years.
Gross earnings for six months ending June 30th, 1880, $14,508.14
U. S. and State Taxes paid during same time, $1,135.05
Expense Account during same time, $2,838.70
Dividend, No. 30, this day, 7,500.00
This amount added to Contingent Fund, 2,610.40, $14,508.14

JAMES A. WALLACE, Cashier.
J. S. P. READE, Sol. Pub.
Christian County, Kentucky.

HOPKINSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL.

A Select, Limited School FOR YOUNG MEN AND BOYS.
Thorough instruction is given in full English, Classical, Mathematical and Commercial courses of study.

The first term of the eighth scholastic year will begin August 1st and December 15th, 1880. The second term will begin January 5th, 1881 and continue 22 weeks.

Tuition and board, exclusive of washing, $50.00
Furnishings, $10.00
Payable, prospectus, half at the beginning and the remainder at the end of each term.
For circulars, address,
J. C. McGUIRE, Principal, Hopkinsville, Ky.
July 27, '80-1st

A NEW ENTERPRISE. CITY DRUG STORE.

Main Street,
J. C. EVANS,
Pharmacist and Manager.

A New, Fresh and complete line of Drugs, Medicines and Chemicals. Brushes, Fancy Toilet Goods, Paperies, Soaps, etc., etc.

Fine Wines, Brandies, Liquors, and Export Beer. Choice Cigars and Tobaccos. All of which will be sold at Lowest Market prices.

Physicians' Prescriptions A SPECIALTY.
None but the Purest and most reliable

DRUGS

Dispensed, Physicians as well as Patrons may safely rely on getting Full Strength Medicines. The patronage of this city and surrounding country solicited.

LONGVIEW ACADEMY.

The Fifth session of this school will begin the last Monday in August, 1880. Besides the usual English course special attention will be given Mathematics and the Ancient and Modern Languages.
Tuition, per session of five months, $3.00.
No extra for the languages. Good board can be obtained at my boarding house, convenient to the school. The Academy is located on the Clarksville and Hopkinsville pike, 3 miles from Hopkinsville and 2 miles from Longview, opposite M. A. Garrison's place.
July 27, 1880-1st.
C. S. WALKER.

Winfree & Hart,

Agents for the celebrated
Buckeye and Kentucky

GRAIN DRILLS,
Buckeye Cider Mills.

Champion Sulky Plows, Wagons, Buggies, South Bend, Clall Plows, and full line of Plows, Harness, Landware, Seed, Greening, Fertilizers, etc.
WINFREE & HART.

Pianos and Organs.

Having made heavy contracts for Pianos and Organs before the advance, I am prepared to furnish them at prices that will defy competition.
Will Send Instruments on Trial and no Money Asked until they are fully tested.
Satisfaction Guaranteed or no sale.

Old Instruments taken in exchange for new ones. Correspondence solicited. Circulars and catalogues of information sent free on application.
JESSE FRENCH,
Masonic Temple, 85 and 87 Church St., NASHVILLE, TENN.
May 25, 1880-1st.

THE PATRONS OF CERULEAN SPRINGS

Are respectfully informed that it is open for the reception of guests. The Proprietor, Mr. Jesse T. Harper, has used every exertion in refitting and re-furnishing the house to make it comfortable for his guests, and associated with him as clerk is Mr. Park A. Heaton, whose experience in this business guarantees that the high standard hitherto characterizing its management will at least be maintained.

RATES:
For the season will be $30.00 per month; $9.00 per week, and $2.00 per day.
Your Patronage is Solicited.

PARK A. HEATON, Clerk.
J. T. HARPER, Proprietor.
July 13, '80

Visiting Card to a Poster,

Our facilities are such that we can print anything from a

JAMES L. WAHL, The New Jeweler

Keeps a choice and select stock of all kinds of JEWELRY, SILVERWARE ETC.

Main Street, Hopkinsville, Kentucky.

ENGRAVING A SPECIALTY.

ABERNATHY & CO., Tobacco Commission Merchants,

Old Farmer's Warehouse, Near Coal Yards, Hopkinsville, --- Ky.

Sales Every WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY.

All Tobacco advanced on will be insured at owner's expense, all Tobacco not advanced on will be insured at owner's expense, unless we have written orders not to insure. After sale it will be held at risk of the buyer.
Nov 17 1879.

S. G. BUCKNER. JOS. C. WOOLDRIDGE. BUCKNER & WOOLDRIDGE,

Proprietor Main street Proof Tobacco Warehouse, MAIN STREET, HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

Special Attention paid to the Inspection and Sale of Tobacco.

LIBERAL ADVANCES MADE ON TOBACCO IN STORE. SALES EVERY WEDNESDAY.

All Tobacco advanced on will be insured at owner's expense, all Tobacco not advanced on will be insured at owner's expense, unless we have written orders not to insure. After sale it will be held at risk of the buyer.

THE GALE

CHILLED PLOW

M. GREGORY, & BRO.,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

AND DEALERS IN AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

Agents for Christian, Trigg and Caldwell counties in Kentucky, and Montgomery and Stewart counties in Tennessee. For the Exoisor Harv str and Twine Binder.

The most successful and popular Binder now known. Farmers look to your own interest and give your orders at once. No risk. Every machine guaranteed to give satisfaction. All the popular.
TABLE RAKE REAPERS DROPPERS and MOWERS
Agents for Woodburn Portable and Traction Engine and Globe Vibrator. Have for sale Wagons, Buggies, Drills, Hay Stalks, Plows, Harrows, Corn Shellers, Feed Cutters, wheelbarrows, Riding and walking Cultivators, Boils, all kinds of Pumps, Fertilizers, Field seed and all kinds of Feed Stuff. We will be glad to have you call and examine our goods as we are confident we can please you with our prices.
J. R. PEACE, Traveling Salesman.
M. GREGORY & BRO.

THE SOUTH KENTUCKIAN.

HOPKINSVILLE, AUG. 3, 1880.

SOCIALITIES.

Miss Bettie Petree, is sojourning at Cerulean.

Dr. R. R. Bourne is absent visiting friends in Tennessee.

Mr. Geo. D. Meitz, of Earlington, was here Sunday.

Mr. J. S. Parrish, of Oak Grove, was in the city Friday.

Miss Flora Trice, returned from a visit to Owensboro, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Briggs have taken rooms at the Phoenix Hotel.

Joe. Mulhatten, the professional liar, was at the Phoenix several days last week.

Misses Anne and May Ware, are visiting the family of Mr. C. W. Ware near Trenton.

Misses Mary and Henrietta Barninger, of Louisville, are visiting at Mr. R. H. Lovier's.

Misses Maggie Banks and Minnie Jones, of Henderson, are visiting Mrs. Chas. Jarrett, near the city.

Mrs. Etha Wooten and Mrs. Alice Adams, of Owensboro, are visiting the family of Mr. Jno. Overshiner.

Miss Carrie Hart, an attractive young lady of Henderson, is visiting the family of Maj. Jno. W. Broadbent.

Miss Lizzie Hall, of Lafayette, returned home yesterday after a week's visit to the family of Dr. Fuqua.

Miss Grace Thompson, one of Princeton's loveliest beauties, is visiting the family of Mr. Geo. O. Thompson.

Miss Mary Prye, a pretty young lady of Nashville, is expected the latter part of the week on a visit to Miss Annie Savage.

Maj. J. O. Ferrell, W. T. Cooper, A. W. Henderson and the writer, will go down to Cerulean Springs this evening to spend several days.

Charlie Burbridge, has returned from Union county where he has been for several months, and will help his mother in the post office.

Miss Lizzie Thompson and Miss Bertha Langstroth returned home from Paducah last week. By some strange coincidence Joe Grant happened to be in Paducah and returned the same day.

Prof. J. B. Solomon, who will be a member of Prof. Rine's faculty the ensuing season, was in the city last week and paid us a call. He is a scholarly gentleman and experienced teacher and will be a valued acquisition to the corps of teachers of that popular institution.

Misses Lizzie and Katie Meriwether, of Clarksville, after spending a week with the Miss Hoppers, returned home yesterday. They are very charming and beautiful young ladies and gained many friends and admirers during their short stay.

The Public School House.

The foundation of the new school building has been laid and the brick work will shortly begin. The old school house on the corner of the lot has been torn away. The lot is a beautiful one immediately on the railroad and the building when completed will be an ornament to the town. The South Kentuckian favors the project of Mr. Jas. A. Wallace and other public spirited citizens to start this school, last fall, believing that when completed it would reflect great credit upon the intelligence and liberality of our people. In the face of terrible and untiring opposition the gentlemen succeeded in getting their proposition through and before a year rolls around its enemies will be blessing its advocates. When the building is erected we will try to write a description of it and give our readers some idea of its worth as a building and an institution.

July Weddings. Whew!

The records show fourteen weddings in the county during the past month, although the thermometer, got pretty close up to the hundreds. The following is a list:

WHITE.

A. J. Morgan to Miss Sarah Reagan, Jno. Knight to "Doris Fields," Jas. C. Moely to "Georgia Gilliam," Jas. B. Brown to "M. J. Messimore," Richard Lacy to "M. Hammons," C. D. Harrison to "Annie McMillon," Total, 6.

BLACK.

Warner Foster to Annie Moore, Lewis Gold to Sallie Garth, Bell Luster to Mary Pool, Warner Williams to Ella Hostet, A. Dunlap to Elvira Brimley, Frank Jefferson to Vina Clements, Harry Sharp to Hannah Robertson, James Lefloe to Lucy Hawks, Total, 8.

Combined total, 14.

This is the least number for several months. Still there are more to follow.

Advertised Letters.

Which, if not called for in thirty days, will be sent to Washington, D. C.:

Armstrong, P. H.,

Benton, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

Boyd, James,

HERE AND THERE.

The colored people of Trenton had a Hancock barbecue last Saturday.

The weekly Courier-Journal can be had from now till Jan. 1, for only 50 cents.

The store house of B. Rosenbaum on Main street had the old cover torn off and a new one put on last week.

Yesterday was County and Circuit Court day in addition to the election, and the city was jammed.

Another ball will be at Cerulean Thursday night. The last one was a very successful one and this will no doubt be still more enjoyable.

A large tobacco plant is growing between the curb stones on the Phoenix Hotel corner. It seems to be flourishing, though in the heart of the city.

Mr. J. A. Taylor, returned last week from Louisville where he had been for some time. He will go to Cerulean this week and spend several days.

Mr. C. D. Harrison and Miss Annie McMillon were married at Salubria last Thursday, by Rev. C. K. Marshall. They were attended by several couples.

Mr. Chas. Ducker, is going to shortly begin the erection of a new dwelling, on the site where his present residence stands, on the corner of Nashville and Liberty streets.

Mary Green, a colored woman and one Rich white man had a wrestling match on the street a few days since for a bushel of potatoes. The woman threw the man, in a fair wrestling, and took the potatoes.

An article reflecting on Mr. Giles a local candidate in the Garrettsburg district was inadvertently allowed to appear last week. Mr. Giles is a worthy citizen and we would not intentionally be the means of doing him an injury.

The public school building will probably be ready for occupancy by the first of January. Numbers of applications from all over the country are already being made for the positions of principal and teachers.

Messrs. Abernathy & Co., have purchased the lot on Nashville street, opposite Rev. C. K. Marshall's, and will in a few days begin the erection of a fine brick warehouse. It is a very desirable location and a good substantial house will be put up.

Clay street has recently been macadamized from Court to Site's Hill. The new Public School Building will front on this street, and when the work is finished on it, it will be one of the loveliest and prettiest streets in the city.

From papers we have received with marked notices we see that Comp's great show will visit Kentucky next fall. He had a big crowd and gave entire satisfaction last year and will draw well should he visit Hopkinsville again.

Lost:—On last Sunday on the Trenton and Pembroke road, a small folding walking cane, with black tips around the joints. The head of the cane was rough and a little rubbed. A liberal reward will be paid for the return of the cane to this office.

There will be a grand picnic and band-dance at Petersburg, Saturday August 14. Hon. Jas. A. McKenzie will deliver an address and possibly other distinguished gentlemen will also appear. Everybody is invited. Good music will be furnished for the dancers.

Democrats should take some good Republican paper in order to get both sides of the political questions in the campaign. We will procure the Louisville Weekly Commercial for our subscribers at club rates as follows: One year $1.00, 6 months 50 cents, and 3 months for 25 cents.

Mr. J. W. McClanahan has moved his family to the city, and is occupying the brick house on Liberty street, in the rear of the Episcopal church lot. Mr. McClanahan is a clever and popular gentleman and an energetic business man, and we note with pleasure his determination to make this his permanent home.

We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to attend a picnic and band-dance to be given at Galbreath's Cave on the 5th of August. A big time is anticipated. It is given by the G. C. club composed of the young gentlemen of the vicinity. Gentlemen are not expected unless they are ticketed.

Mr. M. C. Yancey has bought the right of Trigg county, and left for Cadiz a few days since to introduce his Tomlinson Bed springs. Mr. Yancey is an energetic and reliable business man, and should meet with success in his enterprise. The Springs are certainly the best, cheapest and latest thing of the kind in the market and everybody who tries them is enthusiastic in their praise. May success attend him.

The firm of C. W. Metcalf & Co. has been dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. A. L. Wilson retiring. Henceforth the business will be conducted at the old stand by Mr. C. W. Metcalf, who is well and favorably known as a clever gentleman and a straight-forward business man. He has also bought out the confectionery of Tommy Metcalf, and the latter has taken a position with his brother, where they will both be glad to see and serve their friends. Charley will keep a full and choice stock of confectioneries, fruits, flowers, cigars, etc., always of hand. We bespeak for him an increased trade.

Moonlight picnic two weeks from to-night.

Brandon, the jeweler is the man to repair your watch.

Read advertisement of land for sale in another column.

The finest assortment of Gold Pens and pencils at Wahl's Jewelry store.

Prof. W. R. Fall, late of Pembroke has moved to Union county to take charge of a school.

Prescriptions carefully compounded at McClanahan & Co's. Go to them for drugs, cigars, tobacco etc.

Rev. J. F. Hardwick will fill the pulpit at the Baptist church next Sunday morning and evening.

J. W. McClanahan & Co. keep a full stock of drugs on hand and sell them at all hours day or night.

Jas. L. Wahl, our new Jeweler, has the largest stock of well-selected Jewels in the city, and says positively he will not be undersold.

Now let us send for some good speaker—Col. Richards for instance—and organize the Hancock club next week, say about Tuesday night. All in favor of this motion say "Aye."

The ladies of the Baptist church will give a moon-light picnic at Bethel Female College Tuesday evening August 17. Ice cream, cake, fruit and other refreshments. Admission 25 cents.

Messrs. Morrow & McNary have opened a Diamond cut office here and will fill orders promptly and satisfactorily. They are reliable business men and we bespeak for them a good patronage.

THE WOLF FROM BITTER CREEK.

Saturday His Day to Howl.

Wm. O. Bradley.

Saturday was a big day for the Republicans. Wm. O. Bradley was sent for to stiffen up their backbones for the August election. His speech from a Republican standpoint was an able one, but the speaker seemed to take it for granted that his audience was entirely ignorant of history and the current political events of the day. He began by making a so-called review of the charges against Garfield and Arthur. He denied that he was guilty of Credit Mobilier fraud and denounced Oakes Ames and the Poland committee that proved his guilt. He said that in accepting the bribe of $50,000 from De Golyer for his "influence" that Garfield simply acted as he himself or any lawyer in Hopkinsville would have done, that it was merely a fee. The other charges were merely denied and treated as insignificant. In his eloquent review of Garfield's career from the canal boat driver to the Presidency (?) he omitted to refer to his pious record, in fact did mention that he was a preacher. He then turned his attention to Arthur whom he pronounced the best and purest man in the United States. He acknowledged that Hayes turned him out of office and then denounced Hayes as a traitor to his party and unworthy of the position he occupied. He said his party was ashamed of Hayes and that Arthur was an infinitely better man than he. The greater part of the speech was in this defense of his candidates. He then turned to the other side of the picture. His eulogy of Hancock as a soldier was grand. He admired Hancock and his career was a glorious one. He could abuse Hancock if he would like, but that he would not do. He then alluded to the Surratt case, charging that Hancock bought the President to suspend the writ of habeas corpus to let him hang the woman, when history states emphatically the reverse. He then charged that Hancock counseled to depose Lincoln for removing McClellan, and paused at this juncture to explain that he was not telling campaign lies. Said there was too much of the military about Hancock. That Hancock like Grant was "a man on horseback" but that he had ridden behind Grant. Of English he knew nothing but that he was rich and that he gave a dollar to the Chicago sufferers in '71 and that he had iron doors to his house. These were his charges.

THE BLOODY SHIRT

was then unfurled, and innumerable campaign lies read from Republican papers to prove that the negroes were intimidated in the south. He said Yazoo county, Miss., was the worst place in the south for intimidating the negroes, but failed to state that only the day before a negro had killed a white doctor in that county, while he was going to see a patient. He acknowledged that Tilden was elected but that it was by fraud, that the commission was agreed to by the Democrats, and that they ought not to complain at its decision.

He then took up the history of the two parties. He referred to the extra session of Congress. He seemed to forget the earlier part of his speech and pronounced an eulogy upon Hayes for the manliness exhibited in vetoing the riders on the appropriation bills. The remainder of his speech consisted of humorous anecdotes and fables, and the importance of the coming contest. He closed by appealing to the negroes to vote for the party that freed them and to elect the county ticket on Monday. His speech was well received by the audience which was limited in size by the capacity of the court house. The speech was a good one considering the fact that his party is represented by men who have such a load of corruption to carry. This much in justice to him.

The Last Pow-wow.

Part of the candidates for local offices met at the Courthouse Saturday night, and said their pieces.

Col. Pindexter, led off by owing to the turbulence of the negroes, a good part of his speech could not be heard.

Capt. B. T. Underwood, his opponent was sick and could not be present.

C. M. Brown, the Republican candidate for Sheriff, then spoke for more than an hour, but Mr. West, his opponent also was sick and not present.

Mr. Ennis then arose and announced that he was the Republican candidate for city Marshal, and still in the ring. P. M. Owen, replied to him and also refuted some charges that had been circulated against him by the Republicans. After this the meeting went into the hands of the negroes, who pow-wow-ed till one o'clock. We did not stay to see it through.

Bethel Association.

The fifty-sixth annual session of this body will be held with Mount Gilead church, at Allenburg, Todd county, Ky., beginning Tuesday, August 17th, 1880, at 10 o'clock A. M.

At the last meeting the following appointments were made: to preach annual sermon, Rev. T. W. Bibb; alternate, Rev. J. G. Kendall; to write circular letters, J. F. Garrett. Committees.

Bethel College—C. E. W. Dobbs, Thos. Evans.

Bethel Female College—E. N. Dicksen, E. E. Trice.

Sunday Schools—L. Waggoner, J. F. Garrett.

Associational Missions—J. G. Kendall, J. U. Spurlin.

State Missions—J. F. Hardwick, W. C. T. Mission.

Home Missions—S. B. C. S. Baker, B. F. Kidd.

Foreign Missions—T. G. Keen, J. Lamb.

Denominational Literature—J. W. Rust, P. A. Pointer.

Obituaries—G. Dockery, H. S. Lowrey.

Orphan's Home—C. W. Dicksen, S. P. Forgy.

The L. & N. R. R. will sell to all persons attending excursion tickets at Franklin, Bowling Green, and Hopkinsville, Ky., and at Clarksville, Tenn., and at all intermediate points to Allenburg, Todd county, Ky., on August 16th and 17th and good returning till 23rd August. A full attendance is desired. J. O. FENNER, Clerk, Hopkinsville, Ky.

Obituary.

Died, near Longview, Christian county, Ky., July 17th, Ella Nelson, a typhoid fever and congestion, aged 18 years.

Ella was an only daughter, the comfort and stay of a widowed mother and large family. Kind, generous and considerate the welfare of others was her first care. Her hands were ever busy ministering to the wants of those she loved. Not only were the gentle attributes of woman exercised even in matters of business that required her attention she evinced an intellect and capacity unusual. At school she was ambitious and made rapid progress, while she was respectful always to her teachers and to her associates gentle and forbearing.

"Death lies on her like an untimely frost," but we must remember that "whom the Gods love die young."

"Weep not for those who sink within the arms of death. Bid rest the weary breath of sorrow over their lowly forms."

SINKING FORK.

Brain-dancer Nolen's Store on the flat was huge. Quite a fitting (?) tribute to the memory of the noble Capt. Woolly, on whose place it was. "Rejoice, oh! young man in the days of thy youth, etc." Please read Ecclesiastes 11th and 9th.

Rev. John Spurlin, preached a splendid sermon at the brick church on last Tuesday night, on Christian character. We hope to have such a pleasure often.

We are glad to find Roy is still able to wave his quill. We got a peep at those supra-labial capillaries of friend Zip's and think with close attention they will make him a crop. By the way Zip, why all that thumping about those blue glasses.

It appears that some have taken some remarks we made all to themselves, and propose to kick us out. We can only say in the language of Judge Hend, "if we have done anything we are sorry for we are glad of it." Any man who says he would sell a man strychnine, if he knew he wished to kill himself, and feel no remorse, is in a pretty way to do much worse things. Don't you think so friend Charlie? The good book says "Woe to the man that rieth up early to give his neighbor stroke, that putteth the cup to his lips."

Greenie says she is mad at us and it will lift quite a load of grief from our breast if she will make up for sure I would be the last thing in the world for us to hurt her feelings. Now what say you to this?

Much sickness in the vicinity now. Don't let get sick at once please, the doctor can't do you justice, besides we love to see people well and happy.

Corn will be hardly an average. Tobacco badly frosted, and very new and short; hardly an average prospect. Hay in abundance and well saved.

Mr. Editor if you wish to have your patience tried to the utmost, just ride out in the country about 8 or 10 miles one of these days, and see what you think of the flies. We have tried Alder leaves &c. but the flies bite our horses dreadfully. Stock are falling off very fast too, as they cannot graze any in the day time.

If we had the follow by the throat we set up our last article we would be tempted to choke him. He was surely watching that "dead and dumb tramp," or thinking of his sweetheart. "Turn him off and hire him over."

Mr. Typo, please have mercy on us, for we can't write much any way, and then to have it so badly butchered, we weep.

MONROE ROBERTSON, a condemned murderer, in the Greenway Hotel, jail attempted to commit suicide with an old dried blade. He died profoundly August 20th.

Little Gertrude Hood, the youngest orphan of the late Gen. Hood, died at Warm Springs, Georgia last week. She was the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Joseph, of Columbus, Ga.

TOBACCO NEWS.

MONTHLY MARKET REPORT.

Receipts for the mo. of July, 79,180 lbs. Receipts for the mo. of July, 80, 15,780 lbs. Receipts for the year, 79,905 lbs. Receipts for the year, 80, 103,291 lbs. Sales for July, 1879, 21,117 lbs. Sales for July, 1880, 18,100 lbs. Sales for the year, 1879, 317,711 lbs. Sales for the year, 1880, 917,740 lbs. Stock on hand Aug. 1, '80, 26,471 lbs. Sales by Buckner & Woodbridge July 23 and 24, 1880, 77 lbs tobacco as follows.

16 lbs. good to fine leaf, $7.25 to $9.00.

28 lbs. common to medium leaf, $5.50 to $6.85.

12 lbs. good to fine lugs, $4.05 to $5.20.

21 lbs. common and trashy lugs, $3.00 to $3.90.

Market rules about the same, with a good demand for all around, well ordered tobacco, and we continue to have a full board of buyers.

CERULEAN SPRINGS.

On this beautiful morning while looking upon the crowd of people under the shade, on the benches, some walking, some reclining, listening to the beautiful music furnished by the Julian Brothers band, I was prompted to drop you a line, thinking it would meet the eye of some interested reader.

I arrived here but a few days ago and it is astonishing how mighty I have improved. This Cerulean water certainly is the best water in the country. Any disease where the liver is directly interested the patient will receive relief and benefit from drinking freely of Cerulean water. For amusements Cerulean is not in the rear by any means. No resort in this part of the country can boast of better music, dancing, morning and evening, shooting gallery, ten pins, roller grounds and good company. Prominent among the arrivals in the last day or so, we see Mrs. C. L. Dade, Miss Fannie Moore, Miss Mary Park, and Miss Bettie Petree of Hopkinsville, Miss Jettie Harper, W. P. Walters, E. C. Roach of Evansville, Miss Ella Gray and mother of Paducah, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. D. Shaw, Jno. L. Street, Rev. B. C. Doves, R. A. Burnett, Mrs. Barnes and daughters, J. H. Hawk of Cadiz, Mr. Rony and Miss Sallie Pagon of Tenn., and J. R. Dabney of Henderson has come to spend some time here. Rev. B. F. Cabell principal of Cedar Bluff Female College Ky., spent the day here Thursday.

Dear Barlow who has been here the past two weeks, still remains, the attraction is just as great as ever, and if Oscar don't be more careful.

he will certainly get his picture in the Illustrated.

Frank Dabney of Hopkinsville, in putting in his full month by saying he is sorry he can't stay all winter, Frank would stay until he turned "gray" if the house was kept open.

Dr. Akin of Princeton has returned home to spend a few days, to regain his health. I suppose, but "his little bright eyes" are waiting patiently for his quick return. No young man at the springs is better acquainted with the road between here and Princeton than Smith Gaines. "Her Majesty," accompanied him both trips.

Tandy Wallington has been drinking his ice tea at the springs the past week and still remains.

The crowd is still increasing at the springs. The water is in a splendid condition. Mr. Editor come down soon and take fried "chickens" with me. Hoping to see you soon, I remain" astonishingly yours,

Occasionally.

90 CENTS

will buy a pound of good tea and can at Gish & Garner's.

FOR SALE.

We have a good second-hand Rock-away for sale cheap.

BLUMENSTIEL, McCANN & BONTÉ.

Bargains.

We have some fine second hand Buggies, of our own make, which we will sell low down for cash. Call soon and get a bargain.

Blumenstiel McCann & Bonté.

PLOWS! PLOWS! PLOWS!

We have a large lot of plows which have been soiled by the rain storm this spring which we will sell very low. Among them one, two, and three, horse steel chilled and cast plows as good as new. All of the best brands. Those wanting bargains will do well to call soon as we intend to sell them low.

V. M. METCALF & Co.

W. E. Combs keeps constantly on hand the best Mutton in town. The choicest Mutton roasts and cutlets, and the juiciest tenderloin steaks. He also keeps all kinds of vegetables in their season, and sells as cheap as anybody.

C. W. Metcalf is now holding the bag by himself, and supplying his friends with Confectioneries, Fruits, Cigars, Tobacco, Cutlery, Canned goods and in fact everything of the kind. All kinds of Seeds always on hand. Ice Cream is a specialty, an elegant parlour being attached. Melons and fresh fruit cheap. Give me a call and see for yourself.

C. W. METCALF.

LAND FOR SALE.

A. W. Meacham offers for sale a tract of land of 100 acres, near old Bellevue and adjoining the farm of G. W. Lander. It is one of the best tracts of land in West Christian, and has a growing crop upon it now at which persons can look and see for themselves. There is a good spring and a never failing well on the tract. The field is level and fertile and in an excellent neighborhood, within half a mile of Bellevue Church. Apply to A. W. Meacham Bellevue, Ky. or to the editor of this paper.

DR. WARD'S SEMINARY.

Nashville, Tenn., closed its 11th year with 26 Young Men and 34 graduates. An established school, first met with great success. Fine building in the city. Next session, Sept. 1st. Send for catalogue.

Aug. 5-11

Disolution Notice.

The partnership heretofore existing between C. W. Metcalf and A. L. Wilson has this day been dissolved by mutual consent, and the business will hereafter be conducted by C. W. Metcalf. All the indebtedness of the firm of Metcalf & Wilson, by C. W. Metcalf, and all the accounts due the firm will be

